

Writing task:

Today you are going to write the middle and ending to the story you started yesterday. Remember this is when a problem happens. Think about what happens, where, when and how they over come the problem.

Try to come up with an exciting ending instead of saying 'The End'.

Remember to use connectives (and, but, so and because)

Remember your capital letters and full stops.

Try to include an exclamation mark and some commas.

Once you have written your story. Read it aloud to someone else in your house.
