How the story reads.

Migration is a big word. It means a movement of birds from one place to another.

Birds move from one place to another twice a year and they fly thousands of miles. They move in spring and autumn. Over half the birds in the world take on this mighty challenge.

They do this because they need food, water and somewhere to make their nest.

Many of the birds that arrive on the Isle of Man in spring come from Africa.

There are much less predators on the Isle of Man and in England so the birds are able to raise their chicks safely.

The birds that travel to the Isle of Man have to cross lots of ocean (or sea).
